JERSEY MONSTER CAPTURED AT LAST

Has Beak Like Parrot, Feathers Like Albatross, and Claws Like Vulture.

ATLANTIC CITY, May 6.—"What's that?" the Jersey devil that eats 'em alive or scares 'em into convulsions, has fallen captive to the prowess of Capt. George Doughty.

The Jersey devil is a member of the feathered tribe. It has a beak like a parrot, feathers like an albatross, and the claws of a vulture. It was captured after a fearful battle by Captain Doughty on the sand dunes near this city and is now on exhibition here. Ornithologists, poultry dealers, and showmen have all been attracted.

INTERPRETS MUSIC

MRS. LUCIA GALE BARBER,
Will Give Modern Classical Dancing Program.

A program of rhythm and music interpretation will be given at the new Masonic Temple this afternoon at 4:30 by Mrs. Lucia Gale Barber, assisted by students of the Western High School, a class of young women from Boston, and by children from the public school kindergarten classes.

Mrs. Barber's entertainment consists of interpretations of music in movement and pose. While the interpretations may be called dancing, it has perhaps been described better as only the "suggestion of what Mrs. Barber sees and hopes of physical, mental and moral development through the balanced body, mind and soul." Her work aims at complete realization of ancient classic ideals of beauty and pose. "Modern Classical Dancing" is the name given to the work.

The list of patronesses includes Mrs. James S. Sherman, Mrs. Arthur D. Addison, Mrs. Larz Anderson, Mrs. J. B. Aleshire, Mrs. William Earl Ambrose, Mrs. Albert Clifford Barney, Mrs. A. A. Birney, Mrs. Hennen Jennings, Mrs. John Jay Edson, Jr., Mrs. Augustus S. Worthington, Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, Mrs. Myron M. Parker, Miss Estelle P. Hellman, Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, and others of equal social prominence.

PRELATES GATHER FOR CELEBRATION

Catholics to Commemorate 100th Anniversary of Building of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Next Sunday the most distinguished prelates of the Catholic Church will assemble in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, to attend the solemn high pontifical mass to be celebrated by Mr. Falconio, the papal delegate at the inauguration of the services commemorating the 100th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the cathedral.

Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Farley, Bishop Norrhop, of South Carolina, and many others will attend. A history of the old church has been prepared which shows how closely the destinies of the parish have been intertwined with the destinies of the city of New York.

WHEAT IN HIS EAR FOR LAST TEN YEARS

YORK, Pa., May 6.—A grain of wheat which is supposed to have lodged in the right ear of Edward Graybill, of this city, while he was threshing, about ten years ago, and which has at intervals ever since subjected him to spells of deafness, was removed last night by a local physician.

The grain occupied a position in the auditory canal and hard wax about it had prevented its sprouting.

The title of "The Times" new serial, "The Hand of the Unknown," is sensational, and the story is more so. Not a dime thriller, but a story of genuine interest for intelligent readers.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, "When I began using Danderine my hair would not come to my shoulders and now it is away below my hips."

Another from Newark, N. J., "I have been using Danderine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very little hair, now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and 50c in silver or stamps to pay postage.

ANGRY WIFE ON TRAIL OF MRS. "KID" M'COY

Fnds Hubby in Midst of Champagne Carnival, and Forthwith Starts Things—Husband Runs Down Fire-Escape.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Mrs. Norman Selby, wife of pugilist "Kid" McCoy, and Mark Winston Sanger, of 134 West 116th street, were the central figures in proceedings as full of action as a Donnybrook fair.

The trouble started at a very early hour of the morning in the luxurious apartments of Mrs. Selby at the Hanover, 83 West End avenue. Guided by information from an anonymous source, Mrs. Sanger, who is petite and daintily pretty, invaded the Selby apartment and found her husband in shirt sleeves drinking champagne. He was being ably assisted by the wife of the pugilist, who happens at present to be absent abroad.

Mrs. Sanger was accompanied in the raid by Mrs. Nettie Roos, an older and more robust sister, who led the way. The scene that followed in the Selby diningroom was short but thrilling. Panic-stricken at sight of wife and sister-in-law, Sanger fled barefooted and coatless out of the nearest window to a fire-escape, and then up to the roof. Mrs. Selby, with arms extended menacingly, held the would-be pursuers at bay and yelled for the janitor. Incidentally, she left a blue mark and in return received a rattling box on the ear. Beyond this, however, there was no violence, and Mrs. Sanger departed carrying the fugitive husband's hat and coat as trophies of the chase.

Rejoins Mrs. Selby.

Sanger evidently climbed down from the roof and rejoined Mrs. Selby, for later they were participants in a hair-raising automobile race in Seventh avenue.

Sanger was arrested, protesting that he was trying to do the best of a dying mother. The woman with him was Mrs. Selby, according to the police, but he called her his "cousin Edith." He was finally released on bail.

Later Mrs. Sanger appeared in the Harlem Police court and told her story to Magistrate Crane.

Her husband, she said, was only "a corking good story" is the best description of "The Hand of the Unknown." It will open in The Times on Saturday.

TO GOOD SALES IN THE NORTHWEST

Transactions Engineered by Shannon & Luchs Involve
More Than $8,000.

Sales of two residences for more than $8,000 have been reported by the real estate firm of Shannon & Luchs. One of the houses is located at 1319 7th street northwest, and was sold for $4,500. It is a two-story brick of colonial design, containing six rooms and a bath, and will be occupied by the purchaser, Mrs. Alice L. Clark, as a home.

For $3,500 Mrs. Mary B. Coppee bought the two-story brick dwelling at 1160 Twenty-first street. It was recently built by Kite & Chiswell.

RESIDENTS OPPOSE NEW MARKET HOUSE

Protest against the proposed establishment of a market house at Fourteenth and V streets northwest was made by property owners and residents of that neighborhood at a hearing before the Commissioners today.

Objection was expressed also to the proposed establishment of an amusement hall in the upper floors of the building. The Commissioners reserved decision.

Twenty-five years old, and a manufacturer of automobile tires. They had been married seven years and had one child. Up to six weeks ago Sanger had been a devoted husband and father.

"Suddenly he changed," said the sobbing wife, "and I have known no happiness since. He would stay away from home days at a time. He was often drunk and always abusive."

"Diamond rings—big ones—appeared on his fingers, and on his birthday he flashed a great jeweled scarfpin." She told of the anonymous warning of her raid on the home of Mrs. Selby and of all she saw there.

At the Hanover, Mrs. Selby was "out" to would-be interviewers. But she saw Mrs. Sanger. Not knowing that the inmate wife had asked aid of the courts, Mrs. Selby rang her up on the phone.

"Please come to see me at once. Give me a chance to explain," pleaded the wife of the absent pugilist.

Mrs. Sanger diplomatically assented and hurried to the Hanover. She found Mrs. Selby in bed and a maid hard at work packing trunks as if in preparation for a speedy exodus.

Mrs. Sanger says that Mrs. Selby pointed to a big heap of jeweled rings and bracelets on her dressing table and cried:

"Don't make any trouble. I am rich enough to make everything right with you. Take those jewels, ask for anything else you want, only don't make trouble. If the Kid hears of this it will go hard with me."

Mrs. Sanger curtly refused the offer and left the house. Officers charged with the execution of the warrant upon Sanger failed to find him. But he was much in evidence on the telephone, pleading with his wife to be forgiven and taken back to find him. But her answer was, "Too late, young man!"

Robert Russell, a young writer of great promise, is the author of "The Hand of the Unknown" that begins in The Times on Saturday.
